

Chapter	Section	Subject	Change Point
Management Guide Part1: Direction to Strengthen Procurement Competitiveness
Chapter1: Aiming for Procurement that Contributes to Management	1 The Changes in Surrounding Business Environment	Figure 1-1-1 Recent Business Climate Changes	Update with Changes in The External Environment
		(1) Expansion of emerging markets	Update with Changes in The External Environment
		(2) Expansion of free-trade agreements	Update with Changes in The External Environment
		(3) Diversification/increase in risk following globalization	Update with Changes in The External Environment
		(4) Increasing demand for corporate social responsibility (CSR)	Update with Changes in The External Environment
		(5) Shifting perspective from physical things to non-physical things	Update with Changes in The External Environment
		(8) Progress of decreasing and aging population	Update with Changes in The External Environment
	(10) Changes in industrial structures and low competitiveness of the service industry	Update with Changes in The External Environment
	2 Responding to Procurement Environment Changes	(1) Increasing the sophistication of efforts in the direct material area	Update with Changes in The External Environment
		(3) Increasing awareness of CSR	Update with the latest CSR
Figure 1-1-3 Procurement Support Trends in Responding to Environment Changes		Update with the latest CSR
5 Scope of Procurement	Figure 1-1-6 Scope of Procured Item	Update with Changes in The External Environment
Management Guide Part2: Procurement Infrastructure
Chapter 1: Strengthening the Procurement Planning Function	4 Key Points for Developing Procurement Strategies	(5) Points to consider from a "CSR" viewpoint Notice: Part of 4-2. Points to Consider when Developing Procurement Strategy (in regardsto the Relation with Other Strategies)	Update with the latest CSR
	6 Key Points of CSR Procurement	(3) Procurement efforts Notice: Part of 6-1 System of CSR Activities and Procurement Efforts	Update with the latest CSR